PREFACE

The Historical Records Survey was created in the winter of 1935-36 as a nation-wide Works Progress Administration project for the "discovery, preservation and listing of basic materials for research in the history of the United States." Under the direction of Dr. Luther H. Evans, the Survey undertook an extensive program for the inventory of state and local archives, early American imprints, church archives, and collections of manuscripts. Pursuant to the provisions of the Emergency Relief Act passed June 30, 1939, the existence of the Survey as a single nation-wide project sponsored by WPA itself was terminated August 31, 1939; and the work of the Survey was continued within the individual states by locally sponsored projects operating within the national WPA Historical Records Survey Program which continued under the direction of Dr. Evans until his resignation and the subsequent appointment of Sargent B. Child on March 1, 1940.

The North Carolina Project of the national Historical Records Survey was established February 1, 1936, with Dr. C. C. Crittenden, Secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission, as director. Dr. Crittenden resigned as State Director June 30, 1937, and was succeeded by Dan Lacy, who had previously served as Assistant State Director. The work of the North Carolina unit of the Historical Records Survey was continued by the North Carolina Historical Records Survey Project established September 1, 1939, and sponsored by the North Carolina Historical Commission. Mr. Lacy resigned as State Supervisor on April 1, 1940, to accept an appointment as Assistant to the Director of Historical Records Survey Projects in Washington, D. C. Colbert F. Crutchfield, who had served as Assistant State Supervisor under Mr. Lacy, became State Supervisor.

The purpose of the manuscripts phase of this program is to make available to any interested person a convenient guide to manuscript collections in the United States. The North Carolina project has found a wealth of such materials. A Guide to the Manuscript Collections in the Duke University Library was issued by this project in June 1939. A guide to personal papers in the North Carolina Historical Commission is underway, as well as guides to records at the Historical Foundation of Presbyterian and Reformed Churches at Montreat and to the Moravian archives in Winston-Salem.

The North Carolina Historical Society, organized in 1844 under the leadership of David L. Swain, President of the University of North Carolina, had accumulated a considerable collection of manuscripts relating to the history of the State. Following President Swain's death in 1868 and the dissolution of the Society, its holdings eventually passed into the hands of the University and became the nucleus of the Southern Historical collection, which was founded by Dr. J. G. de Roulhac Hamilton in 1928. The collection has been built up by gifts, loans, and purchases, and through Dr. Hamilton's untiring efforts has been greatly expanded and enriched. Not only are new collections received almost daily, but additions are constantly being made to collections already accessioned. The material relates to the 14 Southern states and to the entire history of the South. It is particularly strong, however, for the plantation and Civil War periods. There are at present approximately 1,500,000 pieces and 2,625 volumes that have been accessioned and arranged by collection and approximately 500,000 letters and documents and several thousand volumes as yet unaccessioned.

Unbound manuscripts are stored in folders in steel vertical files. Bound manuscripts are catalogued and shelved separately. Accessioned materials have been catalogued and each collection has been surveyed and listed on 3 x 5" cards with a description of contents, number of items, subjects covered, inclusive dates, prominent names represented, and source of the collection. The manuscripts, with the exception of a few which have been restricted, are open to serious students of history and to members of families concerned. The depository is open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.; 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays except Saturday. Mrs. Lyman A. Cotten is assistant custodian.

Work on the present Guide was begun by the North Carolina Project of the Historical Records Survey in the fall of 1936 and has been continued to include accessions through June 30, 1939. Entry headings throughout the guide have kept as nearly as possible the exact filing titles of collections. Collections under seal have been specified. Inclusive dates for the material are given, family collections often dating back far beyond the birth date of the person for whom they are named. Where inclusive dates may appear misleading, dates have been inserted in parentheses indicating where the bulk of the material falls. For example, in the THADDEUS BANKS PAPERS, No. 43, the inclusive dates are 1744-1925; but there are really very few papers before 1830. This is written 1744(1830)-1925, indicating that the body of the material begins with 1830; for the EDWARD DROMGOOLE PAPERS, No. 230, the dates are written 1770-(1848)1871, indicating that the body of the material ends with 1848, with a few scattered papers up to 1871; for the FISHER PAPERS, No. 258, the dates are written 1758(1810-63)1896, indicating that the bulk of the material falls between 1810 and 1863.

The field survey of manuscripts was made by Mrs. Walter Barbee, Mrs. Allie Mae Blake, Miss Elizabeth Boring, Weldon A. Brown, James Eldridge (deceased), Miss Mary F. Henderson, Stuart Noblin, James W. Rabun, and Mrs. Bennet H. Wall under the supervision of Mrs. Lyman A. Cotten and Branson Marley. Dr. J. G. de Roulhac Hamilton, Director of the manuscript collection at the University, has contributed invaluable assistance both in the survey of the collection and in editing the material. Mrs. Cotten and Mrs. J. P. Watters have also given unsparingly of their time and interest in behalf of the work. Among the consultants on various phases of the work are Dr. A. M. Arnett, Dr. C. C. Crittenden, Dr. Fletcher M. Green, Dr. A. R. Newsome, and Dr. Van Woodward.

The work was done under the state directorship of Dan Lacy, and under the immediate supervision of Viola S. Burch. The book was compiled in accordance with instructions issued by the Washington office. Final review was made by Margaret S. Eliot, Assistant Archivist, in charge of the manuscripts inventory of the Survey.

The Survey gratefully acknowledges the co-operation and support of Mrs. May E. Campbell, State Director of the Professional and Service Division, and Miss Charlie Huss, Supervisor of Research and Records Projects, and members of their staffs.

GUIDE TO THE MANUSCRIPTS
IN THE SOUTHERN HISTORICAL COLLECTION OF
THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

1. ANDERSON ABERCROMBIE PAPERS, 1836-67. 65 items.
Gift of Miss Annie Belle Redd, Columbus, Ga.

Miscellaneous business papers of General Abercrombie, of Columbus, Ga., including a doctor's bill, 1836, accounts with cotton factors, notes and letters concerning the settlement of debts and accounts.

2. ABOLITION OF SLAVERY IN BRAZIL, 1888. 1 item.
English translation of an act for abolition of slavery in Brazil.

3. E. F. ADAMS PAPERS, 1916. 5 items.
Letters from Benjamin R. Lacy and from J. S. Mann, rival candidates for the nomination for Treasurer of North Carolina in the Democratic primary of 1916, seeking Adams' support.

4. ALAMANCE COTTON MILL RECORDS, 1839-1903. 80 items.
Gift of Alamance Factory.

Scattered letters and business papers of the Alamance Cotton Mill, Burlington, N. C., 1839-1903, consisting of bills, receipts, canceled checks, and a few letters, most of which are for the 1860's and deal with the price of cotton and the sale of cotton yarn.

5. JAMES LUSK ALCORN PAPERS, 1850-76; 1923. 34 items, including 3 vols. Gift of Mrs. P. D. Russell, Memphis, Tenn.

Correspondence between James Alcorn (1816-94), Mississippi planter, and his wife, chiefly concerning political conditions before and during the Civil War and during Reconstruction, but dealing also with plantation affairs. The collection, although small, is an aid to understanding the course followed by Alcorn in his political thinking as anti-secessionist, Confederate General, and Republican Governor of Mississippi. There are also two plantation books, 1855 and 1860, with records and a schedule of property, and Alcorn's diary, 1879, with short entries on the weather, farming, sale of produce, and social, family, and religious affairs.

6. A. F. ALEXANDER PAPERS, 1806; 1821; 1852-53. 4 items.
 Gift of Miss Kate Alexander, Eutaw, Ala.
 Will of Nathaniel Alexander, 1806; letter from A. F. Alexander, a student, Nassau Hall, Princeton, N. J., to Elam Alexander, Charlotte, N. C., 1821; and two from Elizabeth Alexander in school at Brooklyn and Mobile, Ala., to her Father, Dr. A. F. Alexander, 1852-53.
7. EDWARD PORTER ALEXANDER PAPERS, 1838-1925. 1,000 items, including 13 vols. Gift of Mrs. John R. Ficklen.
 Correspondence of Edward P. Alexander (1835-1910), Georgia Confederate General, railroad president, teacher, and author. Includes business letters from his publishers, family letters, war letters, letters concerning the Nicaragua-Costa Rica boundary dispute in which Alexander acted as arbitrator, 1896-99; manuscript of Alexander's Military Memoirs of a Confederate (New York: C. Scribner's Sons, 1907) and a letter from Theodore Roosevelt criticizing it; newspaper clippings; bills; receipts for transfer of mortgages; and autographed pictures of Civil War officers. Correspondents include J. H. Alexander, Frederick Bancroft, Richard Burton, Pierce Butler, George Derby, John R. Ficklen, Campbell King, Theodore Roosevelt, Charles D. Scott, and Ellsworth Woodward. There are also the following volumes written and collected by Alexander: "Notebook on Architecture, No. 2," February, 1868; "Notebook, No. 3"; "Personal Recollections of the War," vol. I, 1861-65; "Recollections of the War," vol. II, 1861-65; book of photographs, West Point, 1857; and diaries of his mission to Panama and Nicaragua, June-August, 1900 (7 vols.).
8. ISAAC ALEXANDER PAPERS, 1862-65. 16 items. Typed copies made from copies of letters lent by J. F. Alexander, New York City.
 Typed copies of letters from Alexander, private in the Confederate Army, written to his mother from Corinth, Tupelo, Satillo, Bardstown, Knoxville, Shelbyville, and other western camps and posts with comments on commanding generals and on the situation in the South.
9. JOHN F. ALEXANDER PAPER, 1861. 1 item. Gift of John F. Alexander, New York City.
 Typed copy of a letter from General P. G. T. Beauregard (1813-93), C.S.A., to Judah P. Benjamin (1811-84), Acting Secretary of War, concerning field defenses.
10. VIOLET G. ALEXANDER PAPERS, 1910; 1929. 2 items.
 Copy of an article on "The Confederate States Navy Yard at Charlotte, N. C., 1862-65," by Violet G. Alexander (published in The Charlotte Observer, June 4, 1910); and a sketch of Capt. Sydenham B. Alexander (published in The Charlotte Observer, October 20, 1929).
11. ALEXANDER-HILLHOUSE PAPERS, 1759(1810)-1935. 1,129 items. Gift of Mrs. John R. Ficklen, Miss Sara Cunningham and Mrs. J. F. Minis, Savannah, Ga.; Mrs. Irvine Alexander, and Mrs. Isaac Read, Augusta, Ga.; Miss Bessie Craig, Lake Wales, Fla.; Miss Marion Boggs, Waynesville, N. C.
 Personal, family, business, and political correspondence and business papers of two prominent Georgia families. The few papers ante-dating 1810 include family correspondence, indentures, papers in a slave transaction, 1789, and discussions of legislation and other political matters. There is also Dr. Adam Alexander's "Diary of a Trip to the North,"

June 10-Sept. 21, 1801, and his daybook, 1804-06. Grievances leading to the War of 1812 and incidents of that war as well as economic and social conditions of the ante-bellum period are discussed in an extensive family correspondence, largely between A. L. Alexander and his wife. Specifically, mention is made of Indian wars, education of Southerners at Yale and Harvard and in the Southern academies, politics of the Jackson period and of the Whigs of the 1840's, the Catholic Church in the South, life in Florida in 1847, slavery and abolitionism, the rise of secession sentiment in 1860, and views on Lincoln. The Civil War and Reconstruction periods are covered by family letters, chiefly from A. L. Alexander, a Confederate soldier. The letters, 1869-99, contain chiefly family news, with occasional mention of post-bellum economic distress. There are numerous letters of E. P. Alexander, Confederate General, author, and railroad president, on business and political affairs, especially for the period 1900-10, and discussions of many of his public addresses and writings. Among the correspondents are A. L. Alexander, E. P. Alexander, J. F. Gilmer, Jesse Mercer, A. Porter, Oliver Prince, Guy Rossyn, M. A. Steele, and Robert Toombs.

12. CORNELIUS TACITUS ALLEN PAPERS, 1746-1915. 160 items. Gift of Mrs. Wm. Price, Brunswick County, Va.

Record of the formation of the first Lunenburg County (Virginia) Court, 1746; list of men in the Virginia House of Burgesses, 1736-65; quotations on price of liquors, 1748; a one-page printed account of Mexican War battles, 1836; a journal of the proceedings of the Young Men's Literary Society, 1840; lists of members of the Virginia senate, 1777, 1853; and obituary addresses for General Charles Scott, Major William T. Barry, and Captain Bland Ballard, three soldiers who died during the War of 1812 and were re-interred, 1854, at Frankfort, Ky.

13. JULIAN ALLEN SCRAPBOOK, 1859-75. 1 vol.

Scrapbook containing newspaper clippings relating to the Civil War and to Reconstruction in Georgia.

14. ALLSTON-PRINGLE-HILL PAPERS, 1812-1929. 10,000 items, including 63 vols. Deposited by Mrs. C. A. Hill, Charleston, S. C.

Papers of a low-country South Carolina rice-planting family, consisting of papers of Elizabeth W. Allston (Mrs. John Julius) Pringle (1845-1921) and Jane Allston (Mrs. C. A.) Hill; fragmentary personal letters, receipts, and plantation records, 1844-58, of R. F. W. Allston (1801-64), Governor of South Carolina, 1856-58; personal diaries of Mrs. Pringle, 1868-1915, and typed copies of the letters, 1812-63, of James Louis Petigru (1789-1863), which were published in the Charleston News and Courier. The papers of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Pringle include diaries, time books, the business and legal papers relating to her plantations, letters from the publishers and manuscripts of her books, A Woman Rice Planter (New York: The Macmillan Co., 1914) and Chronicles of Chicora Wood (New York: C. Scribner's Sons, 1922), and letters commenting on the books. These papers portray the struggles of a post-bellum woman rice planter; daily life on a plantation; the problems of planting, working, harvesting, and sale of crops; the low-country Negro; and the work of the Colonial Dames, the Huguenot Society of South Carolina, and the Mount Vernon Ladies Association of which Mrs. Pringle was vice-regent for South Carolina. The correspondence of Jane A. Hill covers the social life on a South Carolina plantation and in other parts of America and in England. It also contains letters from Richard L. Allston while he was in service in France during the World War, letters commenting on the influenza epidemic, reference to after-effects of the war, and newspaper clippings on Magnolia Gardens, Charleston. The volumes consist of 39 volumes of the diaries of E. W. Pringle, giving daily notes of plantation, family and social affairs, 1868, 1876-1916; two volumes of a diary written by some unidentified person, 1879, and an undated diary of notes in a small tablet; accounts of investments, dividends, etc., 1881-86; store account and time books and miscellaneous plantation and household accounts, 1884-1914; scrapbooks of newspaper clippings reviewing A Woman Rice Planter, 1913 and concerning Theodore Roosevelt, 1901-08; notes on meetings of Regents of Mt. Vernon, 1913 and 1914-16, a letter record, 1919, inventory of books, china, and silver, 1920. The correspondents include Ben Allston, C. P. Allston, Emily R. Allston, Mary N. Allston, Mrs. R. F. W. Allston, R. P. Allston, N. B. Dial, Edward Everett, Florence K. Harding, C. A. Hill, Elias Vanderhorst, Caroline Huger, Mrs. Phoebe Hurst, Adele Middleton, C. L. Pettigrew, Mrs. Charles Pettigrew, James L. Petigru, Thomas Pinckney, D. E. Huger Smith, Helen Taft, Owen Wister, and Sarah B. Wister.

15. S. S. ALSOP COLLECTION, 1902-07. 55 items. Gift of Mrs. S. S. Alsop, Louisburg, N. C.

Papers collected by Alsop for a history of Halifax County, N. C., and 160 pages of the original manuscript. Included are items of information on prominent people of Halifax County, a few personal letters of Alsop, and a paper describing conditions in North Carolina following the Revolutionary War.

16. ARCHIBALD DAVIS ALSTON PAPERS, 1804-93. 100 items. Gift of Mrs. W. H. Pleasants, Louisburg, N. C.

A miscellaneous collection of papers of Alston, lawyer and planter of Halifax County, N. C., containing deeds, 1804-32; a will, 1835; papers relating to the hire of slaves in Texas, 1849; to tobacco sales, 1855, and to Alston's pardon, 1865; notes; gold mining accounts and lease of Porter Mines, Franklin County, N. C., 1869; receipts for cotton shipments, 1870; a labor contract, 1871; bills, and tax receipts.

17. JOSEPH JOHN ALSTON PAPER, 1780. 1 item.

Printed copy of Alston's will, dated Jan. 5, 1780.

18. MRS. HAROLD AMOSS PAPERS, 1816; 1825; 1916. 4 items. Gift of Mrs. Harold Amoss.

Almanac of 1816; copy of the Philadelphia Recorder, 1825; pamphlet entitled Strolls about Athens during the Early Seventies, by Sylvanus Morris, 1916; and a pamphlet entitled A Guide to Some Historic Points in Delaware compiled by the National Society of Colonial Dames of America in the state of Delaware.

19. GEORGE B. ANDERSON PAPERS, ca. 1897. 2 items.

Biographical sketch of Gen. George B. Anderson (1831-62), C.S.A. by Gen. Clement A. Evans, Atlanta, Ga., and a letter to Evans from F. H. Cameron concerning the sketch.

20. MRS. MARY JANE ANDERSON PAPER, 1823. 1 item.

A personal letter addressed to Mrs. Anderson from William W. Anderson, postmarked Wilmington, N. C.

21. ANDERSON-THORNWELL PAPERS, 1829-98. 374 items, including 1 vol. Gift of Mrs. J. R. Anderson, Morganton, N. C. Correspondence between two Presbyterian ministers of Lancaster, S. C., and Beattie's Ford, N. C., R. B. Anderson and J. H. Thornwell (1812-62), and their families, including general family letters revealing daily life in their homes, letters pertaining to the administration of church affairs, family letters to a student at Princeton University, letters from Thornwell to Mrs. Thornwell, letters written from a Confederate camp, 1861-65; some papers on Witherspoon genealogy, newspaper clippings, and a volume of sermons and prayers. Correspondents include R. B. Anderson, A. C. Avery, D. M. Carter, B. M. Palmer, S. McDowell Tate, J. H. Thornwell, Mrs. Thornwell, A. J. Witherspoon.
22. ANSON COUNTY (N. C.) INDENTURE, 1758. 1 item. From the North Carolina Historical Society. An indenture between Robert Miller and his wife and Robert Davis, Robert Ramsey, John Linn, and Samuel Dunlap.
23. JOHN ARMSTRONG PAPER, 1764. 1 item. Contract between John Armstrong of Orange County and Henry E. McCulloh of Halifax County, N. C.
24. HERMAN F. ARNOLD MANUSCRIPT, ca. 1929. 1 item. Gift of Mrs. L. E. Fisher. Typed account of the life of Herman Arnold, Memphis, Tenn., and his wife, pioneer American musicians of Prussian birth, written by Mrs. L. E. Fisher. Arnold is noted for his orchestration of "Dixie," played for the first time at the inauguration of Jefferson Davis, 1861.
25. ARNOLD-APPLETON PAPERS, 1822-69. 700 items, including 41 vols. Gift of Mrs. Mary Appleton Myers, Savannah, Ga. Family letters and business papers of the Arnold and Appleton families of Boston and Savannah. The letters concern almost entirely personal and family matters. There is brief comment on the presidential election of 1844, conditions in the South during the Civil War, the personality of the Prince of Wales in 1868, and South American conditions, 1869. There is a series of letters describing S. G. Arnold's European trip of 1869. There are financial records and personal diaries of members of the families for 1822, 1842, 1852, 1858, 1865-69. There are also the following volumes: a small journal written by Mary Ellen Appleton in Boston, 1841-69, and a short entry journal by the same writer, undated, written "at the direction of M. E. A."; a real estate account of Geo. W. Lyman with "M. E.," 1842-58, a record of ships and cargoes, W. Arnold & Co., Savannah, 1842. There is a history notebook of Louise Appleton Arnold, 1864, and two sets of diaries also by her, 24 small books, Jan.-Nov. 1865, and 8 larger volumes, 1865-69. Also there are two diaries of European travel, writers unidentified, 1822 and 1864-68. Parts of the latter are written in French and German. Other correspondents include George A. Appleton, Edward A. Hopkins, M. R. Hotchkiss, and Dixon H. Lewis.
26. ARRINGTON FAMILY RECORD, ca. 1930. 1 item. Gift of Miss Mary Arrington, Rocky Mount, N. C. A typed history of the Arrington family of Virginia and North Carolina, 1670-1930, written by Miss Mary Arrington.

27. JOHN ASHE PAPERS, 1779. 2 items. From the North Carolina Historical Society.

Copy of an account of the trial of Major General Ashe of North Carolina for his conduct relative to his command at the battle of Briar Creek, Ga., with an opinion of the court of inquiry signed by William Moultrie and a copy of a letter from General Ashe to Governor Caswell, of North Carolina, also on the affair at Briar Creek.

28. W. W. ASHE PAPERS, 1907-32. 3,000 items. Gift of Mrs. W. W. Ashe, Washington, D. C.

345. WILLIAM ALEXANDER HOKE PAPERS, 1750-1925. 3,200 items, including 8 vols. Gift of Mrs. M. J. Slaughter, Raleigh, N. C. Personal, business, professional, and political correspondence and miscellaneous papers of Hoke (1857-1925), political leader and Associate Justice and Chief Justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court, 1905-25; of his father, John Franklin Hoke (1821-88), judge, legislator, Captain in the Mexican War and Confederate Colonel and Adjutant General of North Carolina during the Civil War; and of relatives in the Hoke, Alexander, and Wilson families. The material prior to 1835 consists chiefly of a few deeds, land grants, wills, and indentures; many similar documents are also found for later dates. There is much material on North Carolina politics and law, 1840-1925, including references to the state Democratic conventions of 1840 and 1842, the Southern Convention of 1850, the gubernatorial campaign of 1857, the "Know-Nothing" movement and the Ku Klux Klan; correspondence with and many references to Z. B. Vance; W. A. Hoke's correspondence as a member of the North Carolina legislature, 1889, as Superior Court judge, 1891-1904, and as a member of the Supreme Court, 1904-25, and papers relating to J. F. Hoke's law practice at Lincolnton, 1843-88. The material on the Mexican War includes J. F. Hoke's commission as First Lieutenant, recruiting accounts of the 12th Regiment, United States Infantry, general orders, and returns of clothing and equipment issued at Mexico City and Cuernavaca. For the Civil War period the collection includes correspondence between J. F. Hoke and his family, describing his military services and the daily life of the family at home, and the letters of W. L. and J. W. Alexander from Nacogdoches and Quitman, discussing the Civil War, social life, and law practice in Texas, 1860-67. The personal letters reveal family life for five generations, and are especially interesting for the light they throw upon the women, many of whom were gainfully employed, including Francis C. Fisher Tiernan (Christian Reid), novelist; Laura Alexander, actress; Nannie Hoke, postmistress; and Sallie Badger Hoke, executive secretary. 401. PENDLETON KING PAPERS, 1906-13. 84 items, including 32 vols. Gift of R. R. King, Greensboro, N. C.

Letters and papers of King (d. 1913), consul in Germany, 1906-13. The bulk of the collection consists of copies of articles for his column "The Letter Bag," notes on English literature and history and French literature, and personal bills and receipts. There are also a few personal and business letters to his brother, Robert. The volumes consist of merchandise ledger, King (John) and Linville, 1860-67, notes on quotations, partly in French and German; tentative plans for future work, 1891; notes on the history of the United States, and of the 19th century; book lists, notes on England, notes on reading and on operas and plays, and manuscript of a book on the subject of a library. There are also 13 volumes of pocket diaries giving brief entries of hours of work, books read, social engagements, 1894-1904, 1912 and 1913, and two books of personal expense accounts, 1906 and 1913.

403. THEODORE BRYANT KINGSBURY PAPERS, 1840-1915. 240 items, including 1 vol. Gift of the Misses Kingsbury, Wilmington, N. C., and Theodore Shackford, Lexington, Va.

Business and personal correspondence of Kingsbury (1828-1913), minister and newspaper editor, relating to newspapers, literature, and the University of North Carolina and including many requests for Kingsbury to make commencement addresses. Also included are a letter book (gift of Theodore Shackford) entitled "Some Old Letters of My Boyhood," with 69 letters, 1840-49; and a number of editorials and other newspaper clippings. There are letters from Charles B. Aycock, John Spencer Bassett, Kemp P. Battle, Josephus Daniels, Walter Hines Page, Henry C. Shepherd, Z. B. Vance, and Calvin H. Wiley.

404. EDMUND KIRBY-SMITH PAPERS, 1783-1902. 2,000 items, including 4 vols. Gift of the Kirby-Smith family.

Letters from Joseph Smith to his brother giving an account of naval and military operations, 1776-79; letters from Ephraim Kirby to Miss Ruth Marvin, written from camp, telling of his regiment's expected march to the northern frontier, 1782, and of approaching peace, 1783;

Kirby's personal letters to his wife; a letter from Smith to Kirby asking for the hand of his daughter, Frances, and Kirby's reply, giving his consent to the marriage, 1804. The letters of Edmund Kirby-Smith (1824-93), Confederate General, are chiefly of a personal nature to and from his wife, mother, and sister and relate to business and family affairs and to military life. There are letters from his father telling of fights with the Indians in Texas, 1839, and letters offering suggestions as to conduct, scholarship, and ambitions while Smith was at school at Alexandria, 1841; a letter regarding his entry into West Point, 1841; letters from Edmund Kirby-Smith written from Corpus Christi, telling of preparations for marching into Mexico, of the battle of Palo Alto and other encounters, 1846; the capture of Vera Cruz, the dispersing of the Mexican Army and the dissolution of the government, 1847. There are letters from Jefferson Barracks, Mo., describing barrack life, the cholera epidemic in St. Louis, the growing trouble with Mexico, the certainty of a conflict and descriptions of his many expeditions, 1848-56; letters to his mother telling of his travels in Europe, 1858. Letters from Kirby-Smith's mother, 1860-65, telling of the dissolution of the Union and the blockade of Charleston, of the loss of Georgia, the ravages of Sherman's Army, and of the exorbitant prices. The letters from Kirby-Smith to his mother, wife, and sister reflect his life from preparatory school to death—family life and military life. There are references to Kirby-Smith's resignation from the United States Army and to his being ordered to Lynchburg to take charge of Confederate forces, to Gen. Lee's selection as commander, to Gen. Johnston's command at Harper's Ferry, the deplorable condition of his troops, and the hopelessness of the struggle if the armies of Virginia and of Tennessee should be lost. There are interesting letters to his wife from Cuba and Mexico during the latter part of 1865; the official message from Grant, telling Kirby-Smith to return to the United States and take the amnesty oath; the amnesty oath, signed by Kirby-Smith, Nov. 14, 1865; references to his death, March 28, 1893, and many letters of condolence to Mrs. Kirby-Smith. There are also the following volumes: an official letter book, 1863-65; combination diary, 1854-55, 1858; notes on hunting, and maps, 1859-61; and a scrapbook of clippings concerning the Civil War. Among the correspondents are H. P. Bee, S. B. Buckner, Ed. M. Canby, Jefferson Davis, Varina Jefferson Davis, U. S. Grant, J. M. Hunter, Thos. Jefferson, J. E. Johnston, Ephraim Kirby, R. E. Lee, S. D. Lee, Dabney H. Maury, Geo. W. Morgan, Fitz John Porter, Thos. C. Reynolds, Edmund Kirby-Smith, Mrs. Edmund Kirby-Smith, Francis K. Smith, Joseph Smith, Gen. Richard Taylor, Col. Tandy Walker, Joseph Wheeler, and Marcus J. Wright.

406. CLAUDE KITCHIN PAPERS, 1887-(1915)1923. 100,000 items. Gift of Mrs. Claude Kitchin and Claude Kitchin, Jr.

This collection consists of the papers of Claude Kitchin (1869-1923), member of the United States House of Representatives, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and Democratic majority leader, 1915-23. It is composed mainly of Kitchin's unedited correspondence, 1915-23, and contains letters from President Wilson, members of Wilson's cabinet, members of both houses of Congress, and prominent figures throughout the country during the World War and immediately thereafter. It throws light on Kitchin's struggle, as an anti-war Democrat, against President Wilson's war policies, preparedness, and "discrimination in favor of the Allies in the matter of blockades." There are scattered references to the Mexican controversy, the tariff, financial problems, agriculture, and industrial labor. Numerically, the majority of the documents are concerned with job seekers, tax dodgers, and seekers of special favors of infinite variety. Most of the correspondents are obscure and their letters of little value; but there are many significant letters in the huge mass. The majority of the several hundred newspaper clippings are properly marked. The clippings and reprints of government documents, 18 folders, add value to the collection. Legal and commercial papers are of indifferent worth. The collection is of value mainly to those interested in Wilson's war policies and the opposition to them in Congress. Letters are included from Newton D. Baker, William Jennings Bryan, A. S. Burleson, Champ Clark, J. W. Collier, George W. Connor, Josephus Daniels, W. E. Dodd, Robert L. Doughton, J. J. Dunn, C. H. England, Joseph W. Fordney, John N. Garner, Finis Garrett, Lindley M. Garrison, Edward K. Graham, F. W. Gregory, Frank Hobgood, William A. Hoke, E. M. House, J. Houston, Cordell Hull, Henry Jessup, Robert Lansing, William G. McAdoo, William A. Oldfield, Lee S. Overman, R. N. Page, John J. Pershing, James D. Phelan, Clarence Poe, W. L. Poteat, Thomas D. Schail, F. M. Simmons, Joseph P. Tumulty, Henry Wallace, Sr., Sir Thomas White, and Woodrow Wilson.

425. EDWARD M. L'ENGLE PAPERS, 1834-97. 5,140 items. Gift of Dr. E. J. L'Engle, Jacksonville, Fla.

Personal correspondence and business and legal papers of L'Engle, lawyer, business man, and captain in the Confederate Army. The antebellum material, almost all of which post-dates 1850, consists of wills, deeds, legal papers, and family correspondence dealing with personal and plantation affairs, the yellow fever epidemic of 1860, and the secession movement. The letters between L'Engle and members of his family during the Civil War discuss military affairs, the defense of Florida, and conditions at home. The post-bellum material consists primarily of L'Engle's legal and business papers and correspondence, which touch upon many phases of post-war economic life in Florida. There is a considerable amount of material relating to the Peninsula Telegraph Company, in which L'Engle was interested, and to the Florida Central Railroad, of which he was president. There are also references to the issue of state bonds, banking in Florida, and politics of the Reconstruction period. The collection includes newspaper clippings and bills and receipts. Among the correspondents are A. J. Creswell, George F. Drew, J. J. Finley, Hamilton Fish, J. L. French, Charles Hale, H. R. Hubbard, Sam Jones, S. R. Mallory, C. G. Memminger, and W. C. Roper.

426. LENOIR FAMILY PAPERS, 1753(1790-1875)1929. 10,000 items, including 48 vols. Gift of Rufus L. Patterson, New York City. This collection includes the papers of three generations of a prominent North Carolina family with correspondence between the family and a large circle of friends and business and political associates. William Lenoir (1751-1839), was a Captain in the Revolutionary Army, Major General in the state militia, planter, and member of the North Carolina Council of State and the Conventions of 1788 and 1789. Rufus T. Lenoir was a planter and Confederate Postmaster and William W. Lenoir was planter, lawyer, and Confederate Captain. The papers consist of land grants, indentures, bills, and receipts; muster rolls of the Revolutionary Army; a list of captures at Yorktown; an account of the battle of Kings Mountain by William Lenoir, a participant; letters and orders of Colonel Benjamin Cleveland; contracts between planters and overseers; petitions to the state legislature; slave lists; papers of the Fort Defiance post office in Caldwell County, N. C., and letters covering many phases of life in the nineteenth century.

There is little material before 1776. The Revolutionary material is confined to Lenoir's lengthy paper on Kings Mountain, and notes on the expedition against the Cherokee Indians, 1776, Benjamin Cleveland's papers and the muster rolls and papers of substitute soldiers. There is nothing on the conventions of 1788 and 1789 but a great deal on land speculation and politics of the 1790's and early 1800's. The letters of Alexander Martin and Joseph Dickson are valuable for national politics. The letters and papers on tariff, nullification, Mexican War, slavery, and plantation life are numerous and important. Through the correspondence of Z. B. Vance, the Lenoirs, and the Bingham of the Civil War and Reconstruction period can be traced the changing attitude toward secession, war sentiment, and the hardships and suffering of the people. Letters describing the break-up of the slavery-plantation regime and reaction to military and political reconstruction are illuminating. Letters of the Bingham throw light on educational and religious conditions and those of the Lenoir women are of value for a study of home and social life of Reconstruction days. Throughout the collection there is much on agriculture, land speculation, business, and industry, and general economic conditions. There is only scattered material after 1875. Also included are 18 vols. of plantation and general merchants' accounts; 29 vols. of diaries, stud books, memorandum books, surveyors' notes; and a letter book of Salem Academy, 1819. There are also approximately 140 additional small volumes, not accessible at the time of the survey, consisting of surveyor's records, business accounts, muster and census rolls, slave records, girls' commonplace and copy book, stud books, tax books, etc. Among the correspondents are Isaac T. Avery, Waightstill Avery, George E. Badger, Kemp P. Battle, William Bingham, Robert H. Burton, Henry Clay, Jesse Franklin, Gabriel Holmes, Edmund Jones, Isaac Lenoir, Rufus T. Lenoir, Thomas Lenoir, Wm. B. Lenoir, Wm. W. Lenoir, William Miller, Elisha Mitchell, S. F. Patterson, Samuel Person, Charles Phillips, Israel Pickens, William Polk, James T. Turner, Z. B. Vance, Lewis Williams, and Robert Williams.

427. EXUM LEWIS PAPERS, 1801; 1818-86; 1900. 141 items, including 1 vol. Gift of Miss Anna Lewis, Raleigh, N. C. 508. WILLIAM PORCHER MILES PAPERS, 1782-1907. 3,263 items. Deposited by Miss Sallie E. Miles, New Orleans, La.

Personal, political, and military correspondence and a few business papers and clippings of Miles (1822-99), South Carolina educator, United States Congressman, 1857-60, noted secessionist and representative of the Charleston district in the Confederate Congress during its entire existence and chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs of the Confederate House of Representatives, President of the University of South Carolina, 1880-82, and a wealthy planter, living successively in South Carolina, Virginia and Louisiana. The material, 1782-1858, deals with politics, Revolutionary War claims and settlements, criticisms of the United States government, and questions of a system of weights and measures, mail arrangements, and other national problems. From 1858 to 1861 there is a mass of material covering the controversial issues leading to the Civil War: California's attitude, the Kansas-Nebraska bill and various other bills before Congress, the Dred Scott decision, predictions of impending war and possible end of the republic, and references to foreign relations and anticipated attitudes of foreign countries in case of conflict. The Civil War period is covered by discussions of every phase of the conflict; appointments of army officers and other military preparations, the blockade, economic depression, taxes, foreign relations, especially with France, various protective and defensive measures of the Confederacy, increasing scarcity of commodities, Sherman's raid, and general management of affairs for the Confederacy. The post-war material includes discussions of Reconstruction politics, "Carpet Baggers," Negro suffrage, revival efforts of pre-war educational institutions and organizations of schools for Negroes, general economic conditions and proposed remedies (with special reference to the sugar industry), the suffrage amendment, currency, national expenditures, and relations with England. Among the correspondents are William Aiken, George Bancroft, Robert Barnwell, P. G. T. Beauregard, Barnard E. Bee, Milledge L. Bonham, J. L. Brent, Franklin Buchanan, James Buchanan, Matthew C. Butler, Pierce Butler, James Chesnut, Thomas G. Clemson, Howell Cobb, Richard Cobden, William H. Corcoran, Monroe Curry, Jefferson Davis, Josiah Evans, Edward Everett, Hamilton Fish, W. P. 521. MOORE-GATLING PAPERS, 1788-1890, 12,083 items, including 14 vols. Gift of Bart M. Gatling, Raleigh, N. C. The collection consists chiefly of the professional and business correspondence, papers, and financial records of the law firm of Moore (1801-78) and his partner and successor, Gatling (1840-88), of North Carolina. The material includes grants, deeds, surveys, wills, contracts, writs, pleadings, letters, and other papers touching on almost every variety of legal business. Also to be found is a considerable number of personal letters and papers of the Moore and Gatling families touching on local politics at Washington, N. C., 1853-54, Civil War skirmishes and battles in North Carolina, and Reconstruction politics. Volumes consist of account books in law practice, 1827-82; record of court cases, 1844-70; daybook, Thomas N. Dunlap, of labor, etc., 1856-68; records dealing with the estate of H. A. Depkins, 1863-78; plantation book, Hutchins & Seawell farms, Wake County; law notes and grocery account book, John T. Gatling; tax book, Wake County, 1871-82; rent accounts, 1872; and stock book and lumber account, Morehead City Hotel. Among the correspondents are George E. Badger, Kemp P. 522. GEORGE W. MORDECAI PAPERS, 1776-1898. 4,500 items, including 25 vols. Gift of Mrs. Bennehan Cameron, Miss Isabel D. Cameron, and Mrs. John Labouisse.

Correspondence and papers of Mordecai (1801-71), lawyer, business leader, and active Episcopal layman of Raleigh, N. C. The personal and business correspondence relates to Mordecai's law practice, to his various business ventures, to the Bank of the State of North Carolina and the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, of which corporation he served as president, and to the North Carolina Railroad, in which he was much interested. The personal correspondence is interesting for its references to the activities of the American Colonization Society and the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina, conditions in North Carolina and at the front during the Civil War, and the Confederate emigration following the war, particularly to Mexico. The correspondence of Ellen and Margaret Cameron Mordecai throws light on the daily life, education, intellectual and religious activities of women of North Carolina and Virginia during the ante-bellum, Civil War, and Reconstruction periods. Volumes include records of estate settlements, records of Mordecai business ventures, diaries of members of the family, Peaksville plantation record, and bank books. Among the correspondents are E. L. Allen, Thomas Atkinson, George E. Badger, Will H. Battle, John A. Bryan, Paul C. Cameron, Joseph Blount Cheshire, M. A. Curtis, T. W. Dewey, J. A. Devereux, Dorothea L. Dix, Wade Hampton, John Hinton, Thomas D. Hogg, Gabriel Holmes, F. M. Hubbard, Amos Kendall, C. P. Mallett, C. G. Memminger, Charles Manly, Alex. Martin, A. Mordecai, Sam Mordecai, K. Rayner, A. Ruffin, Sally Ruffin, Thomas Ruffin, Benjamin D. Silliman, James Webb, and D. L. Swain.

523. MOREHEAD PAPERS, 1753-1934. 5,449 items, including 11 vols. Gift of Mrs. Joseph M. Morehead, Greensboro, N. C. A few personal letters, but chiefly business and legal correspondence and papers of Joseph Motley Morehead (1840-1911), lawyer and Confederate Lieutenant, and of James Turner Morehead, Jr. (1838-1919), Confederate Colonel, member of the North Carolina legislature, and prominent lawyer, and earlier related material. Included are bills, receipts, case notes, summonses, agreements, insurance policies, newspaper clippings, maps, journals, pamphlets, speeches, advertisements, records of slave transactions, discussions of the "Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence," and election returns, and a massive correspondence relative to the Guilford Battleground Association, of which Joseph Morehead was president. Also included are the following 11 volumes: settlement with Andrew Lindsay, guardian, 1827-56; J. M. Morehead, executor of R. L. Morehead, land descriptions and miscellaneous lists, 1877; James T. 531. WILL S. MULLINS DIARY, 1841-45. 2 vols. Gift of Mrs. D. B. Ellerbe, Florence, S. C., and W. J. McLeod, Walterboro, S. C. Diary kept by Mullins, a student at the University of North Carolina, containing detailed accounts of the curriculum, dining places, companions, entertainment, and other features of college life.

532. MURDOCK-WRIGHT PAPERS, 1749(1820)-1898. 1,500 items, including 15 vols. Gift of Mrs. Elliott S. Waddell, Columbus, Ga.

The material prior to 1820 is very scant and consists of a few scattered letters, wills, and accounts of the Murdock and Bridges families. For the ante-bellum period there is an abundant correspondence between Albert Ritchie and various members of the Murdock family living in Philadelphia and their relatives in Columbus, Ga. The majority of the letters were written by the Philadelphia branch of the family and deal with Columbia College, 1820-39; Episcopal Church affairs; presidential elections and Whig politics, 1840-54; Northern attitudes toward abolition, 1851; social life of Philadelphia of the 1850's; and family affairs. The material for the period 1860-78 consists chiefly of the papers of Julius W. Wright (1838-78), Confederate soldier and lawyer of Wilmington, N. C., who married Mollie Murdock, 1868. Letters from Wright to his mother discuss the campaigns on Roanoke Island and around Washington, N. C., 1861-62; and a large correspondence, 1868-78, deals with Reconstruction conditions and the practice of law in Wilmington. A few letters touch on life at the University of the South, 1876-79. Also included are a sketch of the Bridges family, related to the Murdocks; and many undated abstracts of sermons and addresses; poems; articles written by J. W. Wright; and letters and papers signed by John C. Abbott, Bishop W. M. Green, Joseph E. Johnston, W. S. London, Albert Ritchie, Charles M. Stedman, and Hugh Waddell, and the following volumes: commonplace book, 1791-1804, of Nathan Green; receipt books of the Bridges family, 1804-41, and of Miss Murdock, 1839-44; lawyer's fee book, Jos. G. Wright, 1847-63; autograph book of Julius W. Wright, University of North Carolina, 1857-58; and journal by him, 1859-62; personal account books, and three scrapbooks of newspaper clippings, poetry, pictures, etc.

533. ARCHIBALD D. MURPHEY PAPERS, 1793-1826. 33 items. From the North Carolina Historical Society.

Letters to Murphey (1777-1832), North Carolina statesman, jurist, and historian, from Joseph Graham concerning Revolutionary history; from Isaac T. Avery concerning internal improvements, especially along the French Broad River, and the life of Waightstill Avery; and from Allen J. Davie concerning the life of William R. Davie and Murphey's lottery to procure funds for his projected history of North Carolina. Also included are a number of deeds, grants, and plats of land in Orange County owned by Murphey, and a few other miscellaneous papers.

A number of these letters have been published in William Henry Hoyt, ed., The Papers of Archibald D. Murphey, 2 vols. (Raleigh, 1914), I, 24-26; 197-199; 208-210; 238; 253-261; 266-276; 281; 283-286; 299-303; 332-333. A few of them have been published in part with corrections in The North Carolina University Magazine, III (1854), 444-447; a few in State Records of North Carolina (Winston, Goldsboro, Charlotte, 1895-1907), XIX, 972-975; 997-999; and one letter (Joseph Graham to Murphey, July 14, 1821) in W. A. Graham, General Joseph Graham and his Revolutionary Papers (Raleigh, 1904), 197-198.

534. V. S. MURPHEY DIARY, 1864-65. 1 vol. Purchased. Diary of Murphey, Confederate Colonel, while he was a prisoner of war at Johnson's Island, Sandusky, Ohio, Nov. 30, 1864-July 17, 1865.

592. PETTIGREW FAMILY PAPERS, 1684-1926. 14,000 items, including 46 vols. Gift of Misses Caroline and Mary Pettigrew.

This collection contains the papers of four generations of a typical plantation family of Tyrrell County, N. C. and portrays in detail the political, economic, social, and cultural life of this class in the South during the nineteenth century. Included are the papers of Rev. Charles Pettigrew (1743-1807), rector of St. Paul's in Edenton, first Bishop-elect of North Carolina, and planter at "Bonarva"; Ebenezer Pettigrew (1783-1848), planter, North Carolina State Senator, and member of Congress; Charles L. Pettigrew (1816-73), lawyer, planter, and North Carolina State Senator; W. S. Pettigrew (1818-1900), North Carolina planter, member Convention of 1861, and Episcopal minister; and James Johnston Pettigrew (1826-63), lawyer, member of the South Carolina legislature, and Brigadier General of the Confederate Army. The collection contains letters, early deeds, wills, indentures, grants, maps of plantations, sermons, notes on sermons, religious writings, marriage licenses, manuscript copies of speeches, family records, plantation calendars, the diary of James Johnston Pettigrew, Jan. 9, 1850-Aug. 1851, twenty-two volumes of records of "Magnolia," "Belgrade," and "Bonarva" plantations, several account books, and a book of minutes of St. Luke's Church, Mecklenburg County, Va. These records give a rich cross section of slavery, plantation management, local and national politics, secession, military life in the Civil War, and domestic life of the Civil War and Reconstruction eras. The transition from plantation to professional life after the war is well pictured. Among the topics treated are the slave market, 1785; assumption of state debts, 1790; trade restrictions at Brest, 1795; Negro uprising, 1802; the North Carolina state bank, 1811; internal improvements in North Carolina; election of 1828; efforts at silk culture, 1838; Van Buren, Clay, and the election of 1840; foreign trade, 1846; abolition sentiment and Wilmot Proviso; the Compromise of 1850 and the fugitive slave law; Thackeray in Charleston, 1853; Kansas-Nebraska bill; Lincoln's election; disloyalty in the Confederacy; Negro labor and the Negro in politics, 1865-70; and general problems of Reconstruction. Among the correspondents are Beverly Allen, Nathaniel Allen, Ben Allston, Mary North Allston, Thomas Amis, Thomas Barnes, W. J. Bingham, Wilson Blount, Bedford Brown, J. H. Bryan, Joseph Bryan, Paul C. Cameron, J. B. Carraway, Henry Clay, Josiah Collins, John Cox, Edward Dromgoole, James H. Foote, William M. Green, John W. Hammond, James Haskins, Richard Henderson, J. 641. THOMAS RUFFIN PAPERS, 1753-1888. 18,172 items, including 40 vols. Presented by Mrs. Bennehan Cameron, Miss Isabel D. Cameron, and Mrs. John Labouisse.

Thomas Ruffin (1787-1870) was born in Virginia and moved to Hillsboro, N. C., while still a young man. As he served as member and speaker of the House of Commons, President of the Bank of North Carolina, judge of the Superior Court and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, he had wide and varied correspondence with men important in state and national affairs. This collection embraces letters and papers relating to politics, economics, business, the judiciary, and family matters throwing light on the life and conditions of the times. Included are the following items and subjects: land grants, bills of sale for Negroes, and tobacco receipts, 1799; letters to Thomas Ruffin while a student at Warrenton, N. C., Academy, from his father, Sterling Ruffin; many undated letters to Thomas Ruffin from

Paul C. Cameron, his son-in-law, regarding slaves, crops, and family affairs; and references to the following subjects: the War of 1812, and bills passed by Congress authorizing the filling of ranks for service and acceptance of volunteers, the Napoleonic Wars, the Treaty of Ghent, the establishment of a national bank, North Carolina's dilemma with regard to titles to vacant and unappropriated lands in the state of Tennessee, commercial relations with Great Britain, 1816, official notice of Ruffin's appointment as Superior Court Judge, navigation on the Cape Fear, the election of 1824, gold mining in North Carolina, the Southampton Massacre, 1831, the abolition crusade, railroad building in North Carolina, organization of the Episcopal Church in Hillsboro, finances of the University of North Carolina, reported by Charles Manly, comments on legislation to prevent free Negroes entering the state, 1827, national finances, Gov. Dudley's plan for a system of free schools, Ruffin's resignation from the Supreme Court and resolutions upon his resignation, 1852, publication of a state agricultural journal, The North Carolina Planter, 1858, Lincoln's election, 1860, Ruffin's commission as delegate to the Peace Conference, 1861, South Carolina's secession, the organization and movements of troops, escaping of slaves, victory on the Rappahannock, the defeat of Bragg's Army on Lookout Mountain, his withdrawal to Chickamauga, and severe criticism of his fitness as head of the Army, Holden's chances in the gubernatorial race, 1864, substance of a labor contract proposed by Paul Cameron to the Negroes on his own, his brother's and his sister's plantations, 1865, the settled purpose of the Radicals to subjugate the South, after the manner of Poland and Ireland, organization of the Republican Party in North Carolina under Holden's leadership and the efforts of the Negroes to control politics in the state, the scarcity of good seeds after the war and the general poverty and distressing conditions of Reconstruction, Paul Cameron's stock in cotton mills, Ruffin's death, 1870, survey of lands belonging to the Ruffin estate, prescriptions, poems, and recipes. The volumes consist of the following: an account book, Sterling Ruffin, 1765-1820; 20 volumes of small account books, Thomas Ruffin, 1799-1831; diary, note book, and account book at Princeton University, 1804-05; miscellaneous accounts, daybooks, ledgers, account books, Thomas Ruffin, 1807-29; circuit equity docket, and law note books, 1847-50; and accounts with the following firms and individuals: Kinnion & Ruffin, 1814-26; James Jones, flour mill, 1819 and 1822; A. F. Brackin & Co., Haw River, 1835-38; and estate inventory and sales list of William Kirkland, 1839. Among the correspondents are George E. Badger, William Blount, Thomas Bragg, David F. 642. RUFFIN-MEADE PAPERS, 1853-67. 127 items, including 1 vol. Gift of Miss Jane M. Ruffin, Richmond, Va.

The collection consists chiefly of the correspondence of Charlotte Meade Ruffin, wife of Julian Ruffin of "Ruthven," the second son of Edmund Ruffin of "Marlbourne," and her brother, John E. Meade of Petersburg. The letters are almost all personal but throw light upon conditions in Virginia during the period. There are a large number of clippings, mainly relating to the period following the Civil War. There is also a scrapbook of miscellaneous clippings. Among the correspondents are John E. Meade, Rebecca W. Meade, Jane W. Randolph, Charlotte Meade Ruffin, Edmund Ruffin, and Julian Ruffin.

643. RUFFIN-ROULHAC-HAMILTON PAPERS, 1785(1810-1900)1935. 6,887 items, including 8 vols. Gift of Miss Elizabeth R. Hamilton, Hillsboro, N. C.

This collection consists chiefly of letters of the closely related Ruffin, Roulhac, and Hamilton families prominent in the social, economic and political life of the Carolinas. The bulk of the collection is for the period 1810-1900 and gives a vivid picture of the business, political, social, and cultural life of the nineteenth century. Although most of the letters are personal in nature, there is material on such important public issues as military and naval affairs, tariff, the annexation of Texas, and Clay-Calhoun politics. The letters of the Civil War period are especially rich in military and economic materials. Such topics as camp life, naval engagements, the battles of Fredericksburg and Cold Harbor, the siege of Savannah, military prison life, and the burning of Columbia are treated. The European situation, especially France under Napoleon III, North Carolina state politics, the turpentine and lumber industry of Florida, and the Negro problem during Reconstruction are all covered. In addition to letters the collection contains land grants, indentures, articles of business agreement, warrants, wills, bills of sale of land and slaves, merchants' and planters' prices current, bills and receipts, and insurance policies. Also included is a long paper by Frank G. Ruffin on the Roane and Ruffin genealogies, and the following volumes: Plantation record of James H. Ruffin, Marengo Co., Ala., 1841-46; a daybook, general merchandise, 1856-82; a diary, Washington, N. C., 1856; account book, D. H. Hamilton, Jr., Hamilton & Co., Naval Stores, Madison County, Fla., 1865-66, and a commonplace book in same volume, kept by Katherine Roulhac Hamilton, Hillsboro; letter book, Hamilton & Graham, 1874-79; minute books, Woman's Auxiliary, St. Matthews Parish, Hillsboro, N. C., 1888-1917; and autobiography book, St. Mary's School, Raleigh, kept by Elizabeth R. Hamilton. Letters are included from Thomas Atkinson, Joseph Blount, Willie Blount, Charles S. Bryan, James A. Bryan, William Cain, Tod R. Caldwell, Paul Cameron, Joseph B. Cheshire, Jefferson Davis, John W. Ellis, William A. Graham, Peter W. Hairston, D. H. Hamilton, D. H. Hamilton, Jr., James Hamilton, Jr., James Longstreet, T. B. Lyman, Charles Manly, John Manly, Henry E. McCulloh, Duncan McRae, Archibald D. Murphey, Francis Nash, Walter H. Page, Kenneth Rayner, Joseph B. G. Roulhac, Catherine Ruffin, Frank G. Ruffin, Thomas Ruffin, Thomas Ruffin, Jr., James A. Seddon, Edward Stanly, David L. Swain, and Calvin H. Wiley.

752. HENRY CLAY WARMOTH PAPERS, 1860(1879)-1931. 5,000 items including 39 vols. Gift of Mrs. H. C. Warmoth and Miss Reinette Warmoth, New Orleans and New York.

Official, military, political, and business correspondence, diaries and papers of Warmoth (1842-1931), Colonel in the Union Army during the Civil War, Reconstruction governor of Louisiana, planter, and railroad builder. The papers for the Civil War period, 1861-66, relate chiefly to Warmoth's personal activities. There are orders, letters concerning his recruiting activities in Missouri, papers relative to his command of the Second Missouri District, to his dishonorable discharge and reinstatement, and to his office of Judge of the Provost Court for the Military Department of the Gulf. The papers for 1866-78 deal with politics in Louisiana, Warmoth's services as delegate of the Louisiana Republican Party to Congress, and to the Philadelphia convention of Southern Unionists and include some material on his governorship, his impeachment, and other incidents in the Reconstruction of Louisiana. The later papers, 1879-1930, which comprise the bulk of the collection, are chiefly business letters and papers concerning Magnolia plantation. There are 16 volumes of journals of Magnolia plantation. The first two, 1856-59, and 1859-63, kept during the ownership of E. Lawrence, contain accounts of the hurricanes and crevasses of 1856 and 1860 and the condition of Negroes after being enticed from the plantations by the Federal troops. The remaining volumes kept by Warmoth tell of plantation activities and are dated 1880-1927. One of them contains minutes of meetings of the New Orleans League Club, May 1870-April 1871. The personal diaries contain references to Warmoth's war experiences, 1861-65, and afterwards to his life in politics and on the plantation, and to family, neighborhood, and national affairs, 1865-1931. There are also 7 scrapbooks with the collection, chiefly of newspaper clippings dealing with politics, one in particular marked "Northern Papers" and one marked "Bee and Miscellaneous," and diary kept by Frank Warmoth, 1902-11. All of these books contain a great deal of information about the cultivation of sugar. Among the correspondents are W. E. Chandler, Thomas J. Durant, Michael Hahn, Joseph Holt, W. P. Kellogg, A. S. Lee, James Longstreet, John Lynch, John A. McClernand, P. B. S. Pinchbeck, James A. Raynor, Whitelaw Reid, George H. Sheridan, and Jacob H. Sypher.

754. ELKANAH WATSON PAPERS, 1797; 1831. 2 items. From the North Carolina Historical Society.

Letters from Watson to Gen. Van Rensselaer of New York, discussing personal finances, Ohio lands, and European political events, 1797; and a paper on experiments in the cultivation of corn, 1831.

755. THOMAS E. WATSON PAPERS, 1870-1922. 15,300 items, including 36 vols. Deposited by Mrs. Walter Brown, Washington, D. C. At present under seal.

The papers of Thomas E. Watson (1850-1922), writer, journalist, planter, member of Congress, 1891-93, populist nominee for the Vice-Presidency and Presidency, United States Senator, 1921-22, are of primary interest to those interested in agrarian unrest, the Populist movement, Georgia state politics, and social and economic life in Georgia. The letters have wide gaps and are of uneven value. From 1870-90 they are personal but few in number; 1891-96, chiefly business correspondence relating to Watson's Populist newspapers; 1898-1903, chiefly concerned with Watson's publications; 1904-09, chiefly political relating to the Populist campaign of 1904, Watson's Magazine, 1905; Smith-Howell gubernatorial race, 1906; disfranchisement of the Negro and Watson's Jeffersonian Magazine, 1907; and the presidential campaign of 1908. There is a complete gap from 1910 to 1919, and Watson's letters, 1920-22, relate largely to his senatorial career, concerning petty matters of patronage. The volumes consist of a notebook kept at Mercer University, Macon, Ga., 1873; record of law practice of Cross & Watson, 1873-1904; a fee book, 1888-96; miscellaneous account books and notebooks of items of interest, ideas for writing and speeches, 1877-1913, and 21 scrapbooks of newspaper clippings, one on the Civil War and the remaining of miscellaneous items concerning politics and happenings of this period. There are letters from D. H. M. Authors, A. O. Bacon, C. H. Bland, J. J. Brown, George R. Brett, Charles W. Bryan, A. B. Caldwell, M. P. Carroll, Walter Clark, A. S. Clay, Herbert Clay, H. Clement, F. D. Cummings, J. A. Edgerton, Richard P. Ernst, H. P. Fulmer, J. J. Gardiner, A. P. Glover, F. E. Grant, T. W. Hardwick, John C. Hart, W. R. Hearst, T. J. Holmes, Clark Howell, J. A. Hull, W. B. Lamar, A. J. McLaurin, J. M. Mallett, W. J. Northen, Thomas W. Owen, Walter H. Page, Clarence Poe, A. M. Raines, Hoke Smith, Emory Spear, Bernard Sutter, Alva D. Watson, J. P. Among the correspondents are Thomas Alexander, E. R. Allison, William Banks, M. A. Campbell, J. A. Erwin, W. R. Hays, E. M. Holt, M. W. Holt, J. Marion Sims, D. H. White, M. A. White, and J. H. Young.

773. JOHN B. AND OCTAVIUS A. WHITE PAPERS, 1773-1923. 279 items, including 4 vols. Gift of Dr. John Blake White, New York City.

A collection of papers of the family of John Blake White (1781-1857) of South Carolina, author and distinguished painter; of Octavius A. White (1826-1903), eminent physician of Charleston and New York, and surgeon in the Confederate Army; and of John Blake White (1850-1935), a distinguished New York physician. There are indentures; wills; land grants; copy of deed to John Blake White's plantation, 1788; letters, 1817-22, describing land and slaves of an estate to be settled; several letters, 1899-1900, from Senator Benjamin R. Tillman concerning early paintings by John Blake White which were presented to the Library of Congress; a report of yellow fever in Charleston, S. C., 1879; and miscellaneous poems and newspaper clippings. The volumes consist of a scrapbook kept while Dr. White was in school and college, 1867-79, containing letters, theatre programs and newspaper clippings; two scrapbooks, 1870-81 and 1891-1907, containing newspaper clippings on genealogy, social events, personal affairs, and medical practice. There is also an account book containing a record of settlement of the estate of Eliza O'Driscoll, 1859. Among the correspondents are William R. Cox, James Hamilton, Tillman Hutchins, C. C. Page, Thomas Roper, B. R. Tillman, Joseph E. White, Thomas White, and Henry E. Young.

774. MRS. SARAH CALDWELL WHITE PAPERS, 1770-1918. 208 items. Gift of Mrs. John A. Tate, Charlotte, N. C.

Business and legal correspondence and papers of Mrs. White, Charlotte, N. C., including wills, deeds, indentures, receipts, bills, accounts, summonses, bills of sale for slaves, notes, land surveys, legal briefs, maps of timber land and other property of Mrs. White and scattered personal correspondence and papers. There are letters from William Alexander, David A. Caldwell, Robert Davidson, and William A. Graham.

775. THOMAS WHITESIDE PAPERS, 1772-1875. 60 items. Gift of J. T. Faris, Catawba, S. C.

Wills, deeds, contracts, household and plantation bills, bills for clothing, and a few personal and family letters, giving insight into general domestic and social life on a southern plantation. Whiteside was a South Carolina plantation owner and lawyer.

776. GEORGE WHITFIELD PAPER, 1859. 1 item. Gift of George Whitfield, Birmingham, Ala.

Letter from William B. Whitfield to E. L. Stickney of Alabama, concerning his examination for admittance to the sophomore class of the University of North Carolina.

777. LEWIS N. WHITTLE PAPERS, 1835-(1883)1906. 260 items. Gift of Mrs. D. J. Carrison, Jacksonville, Fla.

Family letters, most of which were written to Whittle, Virginia engineer and lawyer, apparently interested in farming and politics. The letters discuss subjects taught in schools in the 1830's, slave markets and other conditions pertaining to plantation life, and politics of the Harrison-Clay period, and touch briefly on secession, Civil War, and Reconstruction. There are also brief references to San Francisco after the fire of 1906. The bulk of the material is for the period 1835-83. Among the correspondents are Thomas Atkinson, L. G. Bragg, W. W. Gordon, Daniel Griffin, J. E. Hill, M. W. Jones, Samuel Jones, F. M. Lewis, N. B. Malville, John H. Perry, J. A. Powers, C. D. Whittle, F. N. Whittle, James M. Whittle, Jenny Whittle, and Mary Ann Whittle.

778. AARON WILBUR PAPERS, 1820-1917. 160 items. Gift of Mrs. Schuyler Brandt.

H. Avery, A. J. Barry, Alexander Campbell, B. A. Copp, Charles J. Copp, G. A. Copp, Maria A. Copp, W. J. Copp, R. King, Fedora I. Wilbur, and Mary Wilbur.

779. GASTON H. WILDER PAPERS, 1838-1916. 300 items, including 7 vols. Gift of James I. Wilder, Birmingham, Ala.

Legal and business correspondence of Wilder (1814-73), Johnston County, N. C., planter, and business papers including deeds, indentures, bonds, records of slave transactions, tax receipts, Wilder coat of arms, plantation account books and notebooks, a book of abstracts of payment made by Wilder while serving as paymaster in the Mexican War, and record of a Mexican War pension for Mrs. Wilder. There are letters from Kemp P. Battle, D. C. Hodo, A. G. Lee, John W. Noble, W. R. Richardson, Esther Wilder, and G. H. Wilder.

780. WILEY PAPERS, 1833-1926. 17 items. Gift of the Misses Anderson, Washington, D. C.

Miscellaneous family papers, with documents relating to office in fraternal orders in North Carolina. Among the correspondents are W. R. Wetmore, George H. Murphy, and W. W. Wynne.

781. CALVIN HENDERSON WILEY PAPERS, I, 1851-81. 52 items. Gift of Miss Mary C. Wiley, Winston-Salem, N. C.

The collection consists almost entirely of personal and business letters relating to textbooks, most of which were written by Wiley (1819-87), Presbyterian minister, author, and noted North Carolina educator. A few of the letters relate to public schols. There is an essay by James A. Waddell on "The Best Method of Uniting Professors and Teachers in Colleges and Academies, and the Friends of General Education in North Carolina, in Systematic Efforts to Promote the Cause among all classes of the People of the State"; also a large portion of the manuscript of Mr. Wiley's pamphlet, National Trials, published in Greensboro, N. C., in 1863.

782. CALVIN HENDERSON WILEY PAPERS II, 1850-88. 1,932 items. Gift of Mrs. Charles L. Coon, Wilson, N. C.

Correspondence relating chiefly to the public schools of North Carolina. As Wiley served the cause of education both as a member of the State Legislature, 1850-52, and as State Superintendent of Common Schools, 1853-65, the correspondence deals primarily with matters of the schools of North Carolina, revealing the progress in the state. There are letters presenting the need for better common schools, letters on duties and salaries of teachers, committee reports, letters regarding the publication of an educational journal in North Carolina, and letters and statistics relative to laying off county school districts. There are also letters commenting on the great tide of emigration to Texas about 1838. Beginning with 1860 the interest shifts to secession and the Civil War and their effect on education. Among the correspondents are Kemp P. Battle, W. A. Blair, J. S. Carr, H. F. Gerald, W. A. Graham, J. Bryan Grimes, W. W. Holden, F. M. Hubbard, George H. Murphy, M. W. Ransom, W. L. Saunders, A. M. Scales, Z. B. Vance, and Samuel H. Wiley.

783. ALFRED B. WILLIAMS PAPER, 1922. 1 item. Gift of Mrs. W. S. Bernard, Chapel Hill, N. C.

A bill for timber for an addition to the Shady Grove Meeting House, 1811; a leaflet on the subject of volunteer and drafted militia, 1814; a record of Williams's account with Thomas White, 1833; a letter giving Williams's impressions of camp life, 1861; an undated personal letter from Williams on religion; and an undated bill for a house. Among the correspondents are Thomas White, Mrs. B. B. Williams, and Henry G. Williams.

785. HENRY G. WILLIAMS PAPER II, 1814. 1 item. Gift of Mrs. Hunt Parker, Roanoke Rapids, N. C.

A leaflet on the subject of volunteer and drafted militia, 1814, in N. C.

786. JOHN WILLIAMS DIARY, 1833. 1 vol. Gift of Mrs. Henry MacMillan, Wilmington, N. C., and Mrs. Allen Jones Columbus, Ga. Personal diary of John Williams of Wilmington, N. C., containing copies of letters and personal accounts, March 7-Sept. 1, 1833.

787. JOHN W. AND WILLIAM A. WILLIAMS PAPERS, 1799-1919. 1,126 items, including 12 vols. Gift of Mrs. Allen Jones, Columbus, Ga., and Mrs. Henry McMillan, Wilmington, N. C.

Personal and business correspondence and business papers of the Williams brothers, merchants of Wilmington, N. C. Among the papers are deeds, wills, agreements, bills of sale, receipts for hire of Negroes, and recipes for dyeing. The correspondence consists chiefly of letters exchanged between the Williams brothers, one of whom was often abroad, discussing foreign and domestic affairs affecting their mercantile business, with particular reference to foreign wars and international relations, and a few personal letters pertaining to family affairs. There is a collection of letters from Frank and Robert Williams, 1910-19, from the Mexican border, Camp Sevier, and from France, and a large number of letters of sympathy to the family on the death of Frank Williams, killed in action. The books consist of 9 volumes of account books, short diary entries, and letter books, kept by John and William A. Williams, importers of dry goods and general merchandise, Wilmington, N. C., 1833-52; and miscellaneous notes in a pocket diary kept by Jane Iredell Meares, and her husband, W. A. Williams, 1874. Among the correspondents are William Delano, Edward B. Dudley, John McFarland, J. M. Stokes, and C. J. Williamson.

788. WILLIS R. WILLIAMS PAPERS, 1851-1910, 236 items. Gift of Bruce Cotten, Baltimore, Md.

The bulk of this collection consists of correspondence between Williams, plantation owner, member of the North Carolina House of Representatives, 1866, and of the State Senate, 1885-91, and Mrs. Williams. The letters, written while he was at various health resorts in North Carolina and Virginia and in the North Carolina State Legislature, deal with the general conduct of affairs on his plantation and questions of Williams's health. Some of Mrs. Williams's letters also reveal the anxiety caused by depredations during the Civil War and Reconstruction. Also included are reports on cotton prices, a marriage certificate, indentures, political extracts, petitions from farmers about the passage of a stock law in Greenville, N. C., and genealogical data on the Dupree family. Among the correspondents are W. S. Clark, E. A. Dancy, J. Bryan Grimes, R. A. Kingsbury, E. A. Moye, Isaac A. Sugg, and Neppie Williams.

789. WILLIAMS-CHESNUT-MANNING PAPERS, 1754-1901, 6,450 items, including 70 vols. Deposited by Mrs. W. A. Metts and Mrs. C. D. Glover, Camden, S. C.

This collection contains the papers and correspondence of the Manning and Chesnut families with fragmentary materials from the Williams and Miller families, all prominent in the political, economic, and social life of South Carolina. It includes the papers of Richard L. Manning (1789-1836), planter, Union Democrat, Governor; John L. Manning (1816-89), planter, Governor; James Chesnut, Jr. (1815-85), planter, lawyer, U. S. Senator, Confederate General; Stephen D. Miller (1789-1838), planter, Governor, and U. S. Senator, and Mary Boykin Miller (Mrs. James) Chesnut. The papers include colonial and state grants, indentures, deeds, bonds, wills, mortgages, administrators' and guardians' accounts, cotton prices current, receipts for household and plantation supplies, bills of sale, papers relating to lawsuits, genealogical data, and letters from many eminent South Carolinians. Among the many important subjects covered by the materials are the following: South Carolina Loyalists; confiscation of slaves and indigo by the British; purchase of Negroes; Jefferson and the Embargo; militia rolls, orders, and returns, 1820-23; Liverpool cotton trade, 1822; internal improvements in South Carolina and the United States; Crawford and the election of 1824; tariff and nullification; the Panama Congress, 1826; Union and States' Rights parties in South Carolina; Jackson-Clay contest; John Q. Adams and anti-slavery petitions in Congress; Van Buren administration; the independent treasury; South Carolina politics of the 1830's; Fanny Ellsler, 1845; Compromise of 1850 and the South Carolina Convention; William G. Simms and the Southern Quarterly; Society of Friends of Great Britain and slavery; founding of the University of the South; the Democratic Convention of 1860; South Carolina secession; the Crittenden Compromise; friction between Jefferson Davis and Beauregard; blockade running; the Negro and Reconstruction; Wade Hampton's campaign of 1876; and the United States Tariff Commission. Throughout the collection there is a great deal of material bearing on plantation life and management and much on social and family life. Among the volumes are 56 of Mrs. Chesnut's diary, 1860-65, a letter book, 1865-67, 2 scrapbooks and 9 notebooks containing a number of unpublished articles and sketches. The diary was published, after drastic revision and omission, under the title of A Diary from Dixie (D. Appleton & Company, New York, 1905). Mrs. Chesnut was in close touch with both civil and military life in Richmond as well as in South Carolina and her diary has long been recognized as one of the best source documents for the Confederacy. A keen observer, she describes vividly not only political and military life but also social and economic conditions as she observed them from such vantage points as Charleston, Columbia, Lincolnton, Montgomery, and Richmond. The letter books contain copies of letters dealing with the prison life of Jefferson Davis, the hardships of Mrs. Davis and her children, conditions among the freedmen, and the suffering and hardships of the Southern people in the years immediately following the close of the war. An account book, 1871-72, and a letter book, 1859-63, of James Chesnut are also included. Among the correspondents are R. W. Barnwell, Jr., P. G. T. Beauregard, P. M. Butler, J. W. Cantey, John Carter, John Drayton, Maxcy Gregg, Wade Hampton, Wade Hampton, Jr., F. W. Pickens, W. C. Preston, G. E. Pugh, J. B. Richardson, John P. Richardson, Waddy Thompson, Louis T. Wigfall, D. R. W. Williams, and John N. Williams.
